Cleveland Plane Lands After 174 Hours in Flight

New Endurance Refuelling Mark Set by Mitchell and Newcomb at Ohio City Airport; "Motor Wore Us Out," Pilots Claim After Descending

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT, CLEVELAND, July 6—Exhausted by the tremendous strain of their seven day flight Byron K Newcomb and Roy L Mitchell landed their big blue monoplane "City of Cleveland" at 12:39 50 today, 28 minutes after they had set a new world's record for refuel-

NEWCOMB MITCHELL BANHAM

ing endurance flight

The new record is 174 hours and 59 seconds the longest period of time any men have remained aloft in sustained flight

It wasn't the motor that brought us down Mitchell told International News Service immediately after the landing It was our physical condition We could go up in the same plane tomorrow and set another new record without even repairing the motor if we had recovered from the effects of the flight

Physically Exhausted

The endurance record had been broken so there was no reason to stay up longer when we were physically exhausted

The fliers took off at 6 38 51 p m a week ago Friday At 11 10 51 p m eastern standard time last night they equaled the former record set over Fort Worth Texas several months ago by Reginald Robbins and James Kelly At 12 10 50 this morning they officially set the new record We consider it a certainty

Under National Aeronautical Association rules there must be at least one hour's difference between an old record and a new in order for the latter to be recognized

Tribute to Motor

The endurance plane received its last refueling at 6 o'clock last night At that time the fliers dropped a note which read

Motor perfect everything O K a new record is a certainty

Mitchell Cleveland Buffalo air pilot who obtained leave to take part in the flight paid generous tribute to the engine of the Stinson monoplane in which the record was made

Our descent was simply a case of machinery triumphing over man he declared The motor would have been good for many more hours sustained flight, but Newcomb and I were not

Both airmen showed obvious traces of the terrific strain undergone during the seven days they circled above the Cleveland airport plunging through thunderstorms and occupying themselves at frequent intervals with the nerve wracking task of refueling while in flight

7,000 Jam Field

Pushing jostling and struggling against the ropes thrown up about the airport, a crowd of 7o 000 persons set up a deafening cheer as the City of Cleveland descended and the mob made a wild rush to acclaim the fliers They were held back by police reserves however until Mitchell and Newcomb could be helped from their plane and rushed in to the airport offices for a much needed rest

The fliers and their party occupied an entire floor of a downtown hotel Their party included their wives the refueling crew the ground crew and H L Underwood their "manager"

Hands Cut, Bruised

Newcomb and Mitchell arrived at the hotel about 1 30 a m They were sitting on a divan, inspecting the barograph and talking to Eddie Stinson when Newcomb fell asleep The barograph will be sent to Washington as the official record of the flight

Mitchell usually piloted the "City of Cleveland," while Newcomb stood up through a hole cut in the top of the fuselage and caught the refueling hose or reached for the supply bags dangling from the refueler. Newcomb's hands were badly cut and bruised.

A heavy beard covered the sun-tanned faces of both fliers. Deep lines streaked their faces and swollen eyes told of many sleepless hours spent in the air. Despite the hardships they have just undergone both fliers were

Thus far Kusko's death was the only fatality reported as resulting from the mob scene at the airport More than a score were treated for minor injuries but none was in serious enough condition to go to the hospital except Kusko

FLIERS ALOFT IN WEST COAST TEST

CULVER CITY Cal July 6—Still going strong the Buhl air sedan piloted by R B Reinhart and Loren Menfell continued to hover over the airport here today in its assault upon the newly established world's record of 174 hours and 50 minutes for sustained flying

At 6 a m the plane had been aloft 94½ hours

All through the night the little plane circled over the field, its motor running perfectly Another midair refueling was scheduled for 8 30 a m today

COUNTY FARM CROP OUTLOOK ABOVE AVERAGE

May Approach Bumper Proportions, Is Trend of Reports

HAY HARVEST STARTS

Abundant Rainfall Is Factor in Increasing Grain Yield

Marion county farm crops will be better than the average if not of bumper proportions reports from various sections of the county indicate

Farmers are now in the midst of a good hay harvest and in many instances are starting their wheat harvest Abundant rainfall so far this season has resulted in a heavy hay crop The wheat yield is expected to be good

Fields Are Clean

In discussing the farm situation this season numerous farmers have mentioned the fact that practically all crops are unusually free from weeds This they say not only applies to the corn crop but hay and oats fields are also clean

The wheat harvest has been delayed several days due to the lack of hot dry weather during the last two weeks Several Marion county farmers however, were in the wheat fields on July 4

RAIN HOLDS PLANE AT GREAT WHALE

"Untin" Bowler Pilot Wires Bad Weather Has Delayed Flight

CHICAGO July 6—Rain poor visibility high winds and other unfavorable weather conditions held the Chicago to Berlin plane Untin Bowler at Great Whale on the lower tip of Hudson's Bay awaiting better flying weather before proceeding to Port Burwell Cape Chidley according to messages received in Chicago from the pilots

Behind schedule Pilot Parker B Cramer explained in a brief wireless dispatch that bad weather had delayed the progress yesterday For more than 24 hours the plane had not been seen nor had messages from it been intercepted

It was believed the plane would be further delayed today because of adverse weather conditions reported in the region towards which the plane contemplated flying Storms high winds rain and a low ceiling were predicted today

The plane expects to make the Berlin journey via Greenland and Iceland the same route over which Parker Cramer and Bert Hassell, pilots of the Greater Rockford plane, met defeat last year

One Marion youth was killed and in their badly injured when a motor cycle plunged into a moving freight train at the Pennsylvania railway crossing near the corporation line on North Main st this morning

William Smith 18 of 111 Scioto st has a badly broken leg as a result of the accident He was not dragged by the train

If two young men were riding the motor cycle north on Main st at 10 30 this morning, sped onto at a high rate of speed as a double-header Pennsylvania freight train No 5 solid travelling to the southwest arrived at the crossing a few seconds before the death Davis and cycle plunged between the tender of the first engine and the second engine which was immediately behind witnesses say.

Smith Driving

Smith was driving He was hurled through the small opening between the engine and the tender receiving a badly broken leg from the impact He fell on the north side of the moving train a few feet further up the track

Davis riding on the extra seat immediately behind the driver was plunged into a maze of cross arms and connections as the motorcycle fell back from the force of the impact He was caught between the coupled and the underparts of the engine His badly dissected body was gathered up over the 200 yards he was dragged down the track

Reported Racing Train

Witnesses believe the boys were racing the train Smith denied this and declared they failed to see the train It was evident that Smith had locked the back wheel of the cycle with the brake, skidding it for nearly 200 feet in an effort to stop As the train was traveling comparatively slow it is thought they could have beaten it to the crossing had they accelerated instead of using the brake

Two ambulances of W C Boyd were called to the scene The Davis boys remains were gathered in a basket and taken to the Boyd funeral home after his mangled body had been taken to the hospital His body will lie in state at the Boyd home until some time Sunday

Smith was rushed to City hospital, and from there to Dr A V Starner's office He was later returned to the hospital apparently improving

Nearly every part of the motorcycle was smashed The impact was so great as to nearly dissemble the iron steed, which has been no rare sight on Marion streets carrying the two boys.

Just Out of Court

"IRON FIREMAN" SOLVES HEATING PROBLEM

The IRON FIREMAN Automatic COAL Burner

Makes Hand-firing Obsolete and Wasteful.

Read the description of The Iron Fireman appearing on this page today and then let us SHOW you what it will do in actual operation.

T. M. CUNNINGHAM

Plumbing and Heating Contractor.
159 McWilliams Ct. Phone 2818.

AUTOMATIC CONTROL IS SPECIAL FEATURE

Heater Starts Itself in Morning and Maintains Perfect Temperature

MADE IN 10 SIZES

Local Agent Prepared To Demonstrate Merits of "Iron Fireman"

T M Cunningham, plumbing and heating contractor, and local agent for The Iron Fireman, has just completed the installation of the domestic size in his own home.

The Iron Fireman can be installed in home heating plants of all types—warm air, vapor or steam. There are 10 sizes in all, made to fire any heat or power plant up to 200 boiler horse power.

The principal feature of The Iron Fireman is its automatic feeding of coal, which gives comfortable, even and automatically regulated heat. It starts itself in the morning and has the house at the temperature you desire when you arise, and keeps it that way all day, saving your hourly trips to the basement for putting in coal and taking out ashes.

Money Saver

In addition it saves you money by burning cheaper and smaller size coal, slack or buckwheat. Whether you are burning bituminous, lignite or anthracite these small sizes cost far less than run of mine or lump coal of the same quality. There is no waste, on account of better combustion and the savings on fuel alone are from 15 per cent to 50 per cent. The fire is from 500 to 1,00 degrees hotter, than a hand-fired fire, and this greater heat fuses the ash into flinky clinkers, easily removed with a suitable clinker hook.

Forced Underfiring, the principal by which these amazing economies are obtained, is best illustrated by using two candles. Take two and light one the regular way. Hold the other with the wick down and light it. The first candle burns steadily, brightly—with out smoke. No tallow drips down and is wasted, because the fuel is fed from below. From the second candle comes a pale, flickering flame, almost stifled by black smoke and the steady drip of wasted tallow. Here the fuel is fed from above.

Evidence of Waste

Exactly the same waste of fuel is the result of hand firing—where coal is thrown on top of the fire. In Iron Fireman's "forced underfiring" the coal is fed to the fire from below, the scientific, economical way. There is no smoke, no waste. In the hand method of firing many heat-giving gasses pass off as smoke. In the Iron Fireman they must pass up through the fire, where they are consumed and make heat.

Mr Cunningham extends an invitation to all who are interested to come to his home or office to see and learn how they can effect greater heating and power economy in home, building, or plant.

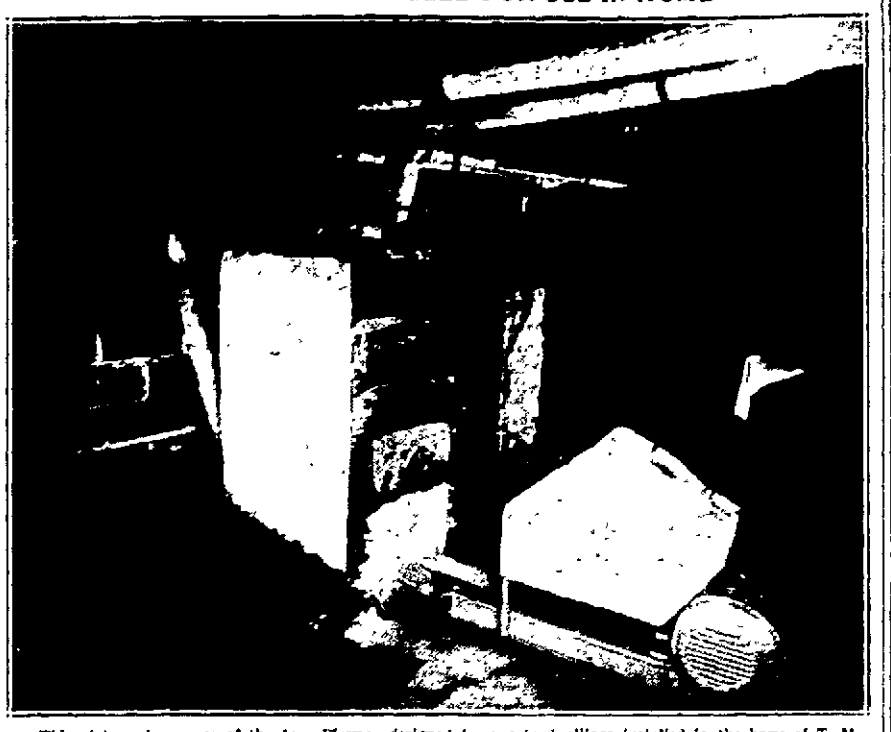
Appraisal Standards Adopted by Realtors

Detailed standards of practice for the appraisal of real estate were adopted by the National Association of Real Estate Boards at its twenty-second annual convention, held in Boston, Mass., June 27 to 28.

The association adopted resolutions calling for simplification of mechanics' lien laws, outlining proposed action in the movement for modernization of state and local tax systems, reiterating its position in regard to changes which it asks in the administrative provisions of the Federal Revenue act, pledging itself to request the United States Department of Commerce to investigate and make recommendations concerning the possibilities of just regulation of outdoor advertising and protesting against a growing tendency to whittle away basic property rights.

Leonard P. Reaume, Detroit, Mich., was elected president of the association. Mr Reaume will assume office at the mid winter meeting of the organization, January, 1930.

IRON FIREMAN INSTALLED FOR USE IN HOME



This picture shows one of the Iron Firemen designed for use in dwellings installed in the home of T. M. Cunningham, local plumber and heating equipment expert, who is the Marion Iron Fireman agent. This modern self-feeding heating device is suitable for use in all types of buildings, ranging from dwellings to large business structures.

BUILDING FOR WEEK LISTED AT $54,425

Total of Permits Above Average as Result of $40,000 Garage Project

In spite of the interruption of one full holiday, this week's building activities have far exceeded any other recent week, reports from the office of City Clerk S. H. Keller show.

Fifteen building permits were issued during the week by Clerk Keller. The estimated cost of these 15 building projects reaches the total of $54,425, including the issuance of a single permit for $10,000, that being for the construction of a new Chevrolet garage on West Center st. This permit brings the average for each permit well above the $3,000 mark.

For homes will be built on Marion lots as the result of the permits issued this week. They range in estimated value from $4,000 to $1,500.

Garages were high, both in the number for which permits were taken, and in estimated value. There were five permits issued for them, ranging from $100 to $10,000.

Additions and remodeling work accounted for five permits this week, ranging from a $25 permit to remodel a kitchen to a $200 addition to a dwelling.

Put These Ex-Presidents To Work, Will Appeals; Says He'll Take Matter Up With Congress Soon

Finds Coolidge Was Pretty Smart After Reading His Stories

BY WILL ROGERS

WELL all I know is just what I read in the papers, and the Magazines You know if you want to get what Mr Coolidge says, you got to get it in the Magazines When he was President you could read what he said in the newspapers for three cents But since he is the Ex President why its 50 cents Not only Mr Coolidge but all of our big men are breaking out in small thick per odicals

I just last night read two very nice human stories one in the American Magazine and the other in the Cosmopolitan both of which Mr Coolidge had written One was on his life up around Plymouth notch Vermont He told of his early school days he said when he was three years old he knew his letters and started to school at five and at twelve he knew as much as the Teacher in fact he said he knew as much as any teacher up there The way he kinder explained it he just was on the verge of being a Child Prodigy

He'd Do 'Em Different

At twelve they sent him away to school at Ludlow I was up through there and visited Plymouth and Ludlow and all those historic places and Ludlow is just about two hills and a valley away but in those days it constituted going some place He paid a mighty fine tribute to the upbringing of the Country Boy said if he had to be brought up again that he would just go ahead and be brought up in the same place Course he knows how its done now and the next time wouldent be so hard

I never was President I never was even a Senator But so would I choose to be brought up where I was brought But I bet you there is a lot of things I did that you bet I would know better than to do them again If I was going to be brought up again the first thing I would specialize in would be boxing, then the next time I would just go through life getting even with a few that kinder hung it on me then

He said it was winter and the snow was on the ground when he left for school and he went in a sleigh Him and a Calf The calf was going to market and him to Washington (only then he dident know it) His whole story was a mighty human document You know thats one thing about Mr Coolidge he has never been spoiled

Shows Hes Liberal

Then in the other Article he dwelled on his life in the White House He could tell you the exact numbers of Linens that they entertained and the exact number they went out too In fact he could tell you what they was supposed to eat at each place tell about feeding the Senators and Congressmen at breakfasts at the White House He laid particular stress on the fact that he fed some Democratic ones He seemed to bring that out to show his liberality Fed em even when he knew he would get no favors from them Paid a lovely compliment to Mrs Coolidge which was nicely delivered

You know its kinder nice to have our Presidents and big men get right down human and tell us what they are thinking about But they should never be allowed to have all this time to do all this reminiscing I tell you with all our boasted generosity we are an ungrateful Nation we dont do a thing for our retired Presidents I dont mean declare a pension for them Its not generally money they need (though very few have a competent income to keep them in comparative luxury for the rest of their lives) But its employment its work they need They should be paid a handsome sum but know that they were delivering something for it

Know About All

Who knows more of the workings of our Government than the man that has run it for four or eight years? Who knows more of our foreign relations? Cabinet men know of their Departments But the President knows of all Departments There should be some position created where we could benefit from the knowledge and advice of a man that we have had in training all these years It should be something where he won't be a Member we will say of our Foreign Relations Committee He simply is allowed the privilege of sitting in at their meetings Now they are discussing something that he is bound to know more about than any of them for he has had access to knowledge that never reaches them He could explain to them why it might be advisable to take a certain course and give them reasons that before that might never occur to them

If I was going to be brought up again the first thing I would specialize in would be boxing

Then, If It Goes Through He'll Ask Cal and Bill for Commission

He would have no vote so he couldn't possibly be a balance of power Not only Foreign Relations but various of our very important Committees Agriculture Federal Reserve even if he should be of the opposite Political faith of his successor (which dont happen often) His duties should not conflict in any way with the President's policies He simply expresses an opinion an opinion backed by knowledge.

Would Keep Him Active

Then he would feel like he was a real benefit to his country It would keep him active and bring us back a thousand fold what we paid him Make his salary at least fifty thousand a year Thats about what you can get for managing a little chain of Drug Stores or a small Oil Company Then it would also give him a chance while in office to give more and better service to us for his thoughts would not be continually on what he was going to do for a living when he had to get out He would know what he was going to do

Now you have often heard all up pensioning them but thats no good (course it beats what we got now) But this scheme of mine is to keep him working for us

I will take it up with Congress and if anything comes of it I will expect my commission from Mr Coolidge and also Mr Hoover for the Bill will be made retroactive It's such a good Bill it will go through along with Farm Relief

Special Program of Music Included in Union Service

Epworth M. E. church is putting forth a special effort to insure an interesting program for the second of the summer Union services, to be held there Sunday night at 8 o'clock.

The double quartet at the church and Miss Maye Evangeline Lawrence, church organist, have planned a musical program to precede the sermon by the Rev. J. F. Lear, of Columbus.

The program which will be given by Mrs. Florence Shaw Rutherford, Mrs. Alice Lawrence Dunlop, Mrs. Earl N. Hale, Miss Mary Heminger, W. W. Hoppe, Rex H. Robinson, R. A. Martin, Knox Dunlop and Miss Lawrence, will be as follows:

"The Lord Is Great," Mendelssohn, anthem by double quartet; "I'll Take Thee Home," Mendelssohn, by Mrs. Rutherford, Mrs. Dunlop and Mrs. Hale; "The Living God," O'Hara, offertory solo by Mr. Dunlop.

The Rev. Mr. Lear is general secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance of Columbus.

New Pastor to Begin Work Here Early in September

Rev. Paul Bourquin Accepts Call to Salem Evangelical Church

The Rev. Paul Bourquin will come to Marion from Elyria, early in September, to accept the pastorate of Salem Evangelical church, East Church st. The resignation of the Rev. G. A. Kanzler became effective June 1.

The Rev. Mr. Bourquin has had a notable record in Evangelical church work, and served at St. Paul's Evangelical church in Elyria nine years. In his denomination he is an advisor of the Ohio District Evangelical Women's Union and chief justice of the Ohio District court.

In June, 1898, Marion's newest pastor was ordained to the ministry at Eden Theological Seminary, St. Louis, Mo. The following year he was married and became a member of the Evangelical Synod.

He has served in churches in Vincennes, Evansville and Madison, Ind., Reading, O. and Indianapolis. For five years the Rev. Mr. Bourquin has been secretary and treasurer of the Elyria Ministerial association and held the office of president for one year. When Billy Sunday was making a campaign in Elyria, the Rev. Mr. Bourquin took an active part in working with the great evangelist.

An Elyria paper has stated that during the nine years of his ministry the active membership in St. Paul's church has about doubled.

REV. PAUL BOURQUIN

The Rev. Mr. Bourquin has five children, three of whom are married and living in Elyria.

PLAN COMMUNION

Feature of Sunday Morning Service at Baptist Churches

Trinity Baptist and Fite Memorial Baptist churches will observe Communion services in both churches at the morning worship time, Sunday.

WILL PREACH SUNDAY

The Rev. G. G. Canfield, pastor of First Church of the Brethren, will preach Sunday morning at the regular church service hour. Last week the Rev. Mr. Canfield severely sprained his ankle at the Sunday school picnic, and has been on crutches since that time.

CHOSEN FOR JULY

Mildred Bodley to Play Musical Numbers for Junior Church

For use in stores and small restaurants a new barbecue meat roaster occupies but 30 inches of counter space.

It takes exercise of the will power in emergencies to make strong men. Let boys bear responsibility.

Popular Musical Group on Chautauqua Program

ALL who like good music will always say that they like a man's singing voice, and when the Tiffany Male quartet and Miss Dorothy Haines come here on the Chautauqua program, which opens July 21, a program of splendid music will be offered. The quartet and accompanist are pictured above.

Miss Haines, in addition to being a talented accompanist with the quartet, has also been hailed as an entertainer of remarkable merit.

While the quartet renders the best in male quartet music in building their programs, they have kept in mind the desire of chautauqua audiences for the popular and for entertainment.

Together Four Years

The quartet has sung together, winter and summer, for the past four years. Their ensemble work is excellent, their solo work is good and their comedy is notable.

Included in the program which they will present Wednesday afternoon, July 24, at 2:30 o'clock and at night at 8:45 o'clock, will be operatic selections, some of the classics and popular music, interspersed with "skits."

Tickets for the 1929 season of Chautauqua will be placed on sale at the uptown stores the middle of next week. Members of the [illegible] board will hold a meeting Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. for a complete check up on details of the five-day program.

What Is Man?

A SERMONETTE

BY THE REV. W. C. BOWMAN
Pastor, Second Pilgrim Holiness Church
Psalms 8:4.

THIS is a subject that is receiving much attention today and is being greatly misused. Some argue that by a process of evolution man came from the monkey, but this is contrary to the Bible, for the Bible teaches us man was the crowning act of all God's creation. Gen. 1:26-27.

Man is a wonderful being and everybody worships something—some people's God is money, others pleasures, others fashions. Man is a free moral agent and not a machine, as some would have us think. That is the reason Adam and Eve fell, because they had the power to choose for themselves. God sends no man to Hell and every soul that goes there will go by choice for it is not God's will that any should perish but that all should come to repentance. 2 Peter 3:9.

Man is a fallen being. Every penal institution is a concrete witness that man is a fallen being. God says there is none good, no not one, speaking of man in his unregenerated condition. Man naturally is sinful and in the fall lowered a depraved nature, that makes him as far away from God as natural as the sparks fly upward, but God has made it possible through the atoning blood of Jesus Christ for man to be born again and to be sanctified Holy and have this fallen nature removed by the mighty baptism with the Holy Ghost and fire.

Man is a creature of influence. The Bible says no man liveth unto himself and no man dieth unto himself. We are molding each day influence for good or evil. Either by our lives we are lifting folks toward Heaven or dragging them toward Hell.

Man is an immortal being, the soul of man is as immortal as God is. And man is so constituted that he will be a citizen of two worlds. A million years from now will find us either in eternal bliss or eternal woe. Either enjoying the heaven Jesus told His disciples about and John saw when exiled on Patmos or we will be in the place of torment. Hell is a place of suffering and not the grave, as some would have us think. God has made a way of escape for all men will embrace it.

John 3:16-17; Heb. 3:1-2-3.

Much was he drew plot Newcomb told Internat ional News Service I took a bath aboard the plane eighty we were in the air but Mitchell didn t take a bath once And Mitchell didn t deny it

Newcomb said they were shocked by news of the death of their friend Waldo Rober young airmail pilot who was killed last Sunday morning when his plane crashed in the fog near Columbus

We felt pretty badly about it said Newcomb Waldo was a fine pilot and a chap worth knowing

News of Rober s death was kept from the fliers until last Tuesday when they insisted that newspapers which they had not seen since Sunday, be sent aboard

Proves Construction

Floyd Logan president of the Cleveland chapter of the American Aeronautical association said after the flight that the endurance test clearly proved that present day construction of engines and planes is superior to the physical endurance of man

Taking it all in all, said Logan weather conditions during the flight were far from normal and I think that Newcomb and Mitchell made a wonderful record considering the difficul es they had to surmount

Mitchell and Newcomb were so worn by their long flight that they were in no condition to undergo questioning at any great length until after they had rested Soon after landing they were hustled into an automobile and taken to a downtown hotel where later they will be given the city s official reception

They were questioned briefly about the terrific thunderstorm they rode out the night before they landed a storm which grounded the first refueling plane and but for the skill of refueling Pilot Ernest Basham would have resulted in serious injury to the three men o the refueling crew

Get Little Sleep

We didn t once consider landing said Mitchell We were so near our goal then that we simply couldn t let thought of failure enter our minds We got the breaks and won out It was one of the worst rainstorms I have ever encountered while in the air

Mitchell said that neither he nor Newcomb got much sleep during the nights The small bunk in the City of Cleveland was on the floor just back of the motor and the continual roar of the engine made sleep next to impossible even had they cared to try

This flight wasn t just a stunt declared Eddie Stinson noted aviator and designer of the 'City of Cleveland

It was a flight to prove that aviation has passed the stage of infancy

In the first place said Stinson who flew here several days ago to watch the progress of the flight this flight has proved the durability and reliability of the engine

Learns Lesson

In the second place it proved that such a flight is not past the bounds of physical endurance even though the boys were pretty well worn out when they came down Newcomb and Mitchell had flown a distance of approximately one third the circumference of the earth at the equator

And in third place it proved that modern design and construction is such that any well built plane may remain in the air almost indefinitely

Stinson said the mine and navy had learned a valuable lesson from endurance flights such as this The flights demonstrate that in an emergency he declared a refueling plane could supply bombers, scout planes and observers with fuel hundreds of miles from the base

Cleveland and the nation can well afford to be proud of Newcomb and Mitchell Stinson continued I have known a great many fliers but I never knew any who could have piloted a ship through a storm as beautifully as they did Thursday night

Otto Leisy president of the Stewart Aircraft Co estimated the foregoing and the flight cost him around $5 440. This covers the salaries of the pilots, ground crew, supplies and use of the endurance plane and one refueling plane but does not take into account the second refueler which was lent him.

Regardless of what it cost him Leisy was the happiest man in the world today Normally a quiet and reserved man Leisy lost all his poise when he came face to face with Newcomb and Mitchell and jumped around like the most excited small boy in the crowd of spectators

Newcomb and Mitchell always have been pals since they took up flying Their first met back in 1919 at Carlstrom field Florida and have been closely associated ever since

John D. 90 Monday

Rockefeller Hale and Hearty; Plans No Celebration

NEW YORK July 6—Still hale and hearty John D Rockefeller will celebrate his eighty-ninth birthday at his Pocantico Hills estate at Tarrytown N Y Monday

He will observe this milestone in his life quietly Guards at the tall iron gates of his secluded estate will see that only a few expected guests and relatives are admitted to the grounds

John D will not allow the fact that Monday will be his birthday to interfere with his daily round of golf He will play eight holes—no more, no less He figures that any more than that would be imposing a physical strain and he has learned how to take care of himself

Feels Much Younger

He will have well passed the 100 centennial mark the way he is living Thirty-eight persons out of 100 000 live out a full century insurance company statisticians say and there is every indication that John D will be one of that class

When Rockefeller was interviewed at Ormond Beach Fla, four months ago he said he felt ten years younger than his age And he looked it

Rockefeller passed through his health crisis some 20 years ago He suffered considerably from stomach trouble

But what with dieting golf moderate care and the right amount of relaxation he probably is in as good physical condition today as he was at 70

Routine Varies Little

For years this famous routine of life has varied but little He arises about 7 a m has a leisurely breakfast reads and then plays golf Then follows a shorter another rest luncheon and then a motor ride He has dinner about 6 p m reads for awhile and retires about 9 or 10 p m

Rockefeller spends the winter in Florida where the weather permits water golf the spring at Lakewood N J and the summer at Tarrytown He never reveals his golf score but this writer who went around with him on the links at Ormond Beach can say with authority that John D shoots a pretty good game He is particularly good with the spoon and the putter His second choice are mashie to write home about

How He Started

Rockefeller was born July 8 1839 at Richmond Tioga county N Y the son of a farmer-doctor of moderate circumstances At 20 he had saved $1 000 borrowed $1 000 from his father and bought into a partnership of a Cleveland Ohio produce firm At 0 he had made considerable money and had bought out the partners in an oil refining business for $72 500 This was his start in building up a fortune that caused him to become known for years as the richest man in the world

U. S. GUARDS AGAINST COUNTERFEIT NOTES

Fears Public's Lack of Familiarity with New Money Might Aid Bad Paper

WASHINGTON July 6 — Extraordinary precautions were being taken today by the U S secret service to guard against counterfeiting of the new government paper currency which will be issued to the public in exchange for old July 10

Lack of familiarity of the public with the new greenbacks would add to the chances of circulating spurious paper although the abbreviated names, through design material and distinctive features under ordinary circumstances is regarded as more nearly counterfeit proof than the present type

All details of the tremendous task of putting about $5 000 000 000 worth of new money into circulation thereby completely revising the currency system have been worked out Approximately 900 000 000 pieces of paper money eventually will be replaced by the smaller type

While many millions of dollars will be exchanged the process of reorganizing the currency system necessarily will be a gradual one All small denominations in federal reserve and U S notes will be issued as fast as the reserve banks can get them out but national bank notes will not be distributed in the new size for several months The printing of national bank currency has only recently been started

As a Former Criminal Sees It.

When the commission of distinguished citizens named by President Hoover reports its findings and makes its recommendations looking to the amelioration of the crime situation we will doubtless have a far better understanding of existing conditions, and the factors leading up to them and be able to deal more effectively with crime and criminals However the commission s report is far off It will be many months, some years probably before it is ready to give out the results of its observations and study

Meanwhile it will do no harm to get light on crime and criminals from such other sources as may offer We are led to this by an article by Jack Black in Harper s magazine We have had so much on the subject from theorists reformers and others who speak if from knowledge at all, from second hand knowledge that this article by Black is of special interest in that his knowledge of the subject is first hand Black speaks from experience He has served a number of prison sentences for felonies and should know whereof he speaks

Black is wholly out of accord with many of the prevalent theories about crime and criminal legislation He holds that the majority of those who would reform existing crime conditions go about the thing the wrong way, that they put the horse before the cart They seek and demand more laws which could not do other than complicate the situation He holds the present laws adequate, that more laws would not only prove of advantage to the criminal world but tend to make more criminals The police and the courts are criticized when in fact criticism should be direct to the police and court systems which have become what they are through graft and corrupt politics Police departments have become to be so generally regarded as the playthings of political corruptionists he holds, that honest and intelligent men hesitate about identifying themselves with police activities and he states that third degree methods and the American prison system have aided the multiplicity of the laws in increasing crime

This contributor to Harper s has been a criminal and he probably knows thousands in the underworld He has an inside knowledge of the crime situation which the theorists can hardly have Instead of heeding the there oughta be a law cry of the latter he would wipe off the statute books many laws we have and enforce those left without fear favor or favoritism Who will say that he is not right?

Flirting with Death.

There may be real, for-sure whisky in the country but the man who buys, no matter from whom he buys, can have no real assurance that he is getting it This is true whether he buys from a bootlegger or from a druggist on prescription or breaks into a government warehouse and steals from there in what is supposed to be whisky The government seal no longer means anything Thousands of people really in need of a stimulant who have secured from physicians prescriptions for the purchase of whisky have been dosed or dosed themselves with doctored stuff which may have done them far more harm than good

This has been brought out by the discovery that 60 000 gallons of supposed whisky in the Sibley warehouse in Chicago is nothing more than a little raw alcohol and much colored water which has acquired the bouquet and taste of whisky from the barrels stored there from which thieves stole the whisky and substituted the stuff found therein and the further disclosure that what has occurred in the Sibley warehouse has occurred in other government warehouses The most hopeful phase of the situation is that much of the doctored stuff is nothing more than colored water which can do little harm even though it do no good

In the twenty-seven government warehouses and centralization depots throughout the country there are 15 000 000 gallons of what was supposed by the prohibition department when it took it over to be medicinal whisky but there isn t any assurance that all of it is not doctored stuff as it has not been tested since it was taken over from the revenue department

Until April 1 1927 the liquor in bonded warehouses was under the control of the revenue department National Prohibition Commissioner James M Doran said in Washington Friday This was to make certain that the tax on it would be collected When it was given into our care we accepted it as is on the supposition that all the whisky held by the revenue bureau was in good condition

Dr Doran stated that no tests had been made from the time his department took the whisky over up to the time of the discovery of the steal in the Chicago warehouse but when it was discovered that great quantities of whisky had been stolen from the Sibley warehouse and replaced with adulterants investigations were ordered in all the twenty seven government concentration depots Directors all over the country the doctor said have been instructed to take precautions that no more bad liquor goes out to the medicinal trade

The only safe course for Americans is to cut out whisky No matter from what source it comes there is danger in drinking it No matter where secured it may prove rank poison There is not even one real guarantee that the man who secures it in Canada and smuggles it into this country is getting the pure goods It is readily admitted in Canada that the crookedness so universal in this country in connection with liquor is not uncommon up there

The man who drinks whisky is flirting with death

A Sun-Tanned Skin.

BY ROYAL S COPELAND M D

It used to be that sunburned girls were seen only in the summer time Now these moderns are sunburned the year round

Sunburn as it comes from the rays of the sun is painful It may even result in scars The sun s rays have certain chemical rays of an irritating and scarring nature

The texture of people s skin differs Some have very thin sensitive skins These are the ones who suffer most from sunburn Others have coarser skins which tan but do not burn

The mode of the moment is the sunburned skin All women are anxious to have this healthy outdoor appearance I am in full accord with the idea

If you can not take time to go outdoors and enjoy the sunshine which gives you that healthy look then some of these health aids are all right When you glance in the mirror and see yourself white pale face you look glum If your color is good you respond to your appearance and feel better

Beauty aids whether they be sun tan powder a bit of color or their accessory aid much to your peace of mind There are wonderful lamps which supply controlled light to the skin and tan it

You should take excellent care of the skin no matter what your natural color may be Find the soap that agrees with you and then wash the skin thoroughly with plenty of soap and water If the skin is dry you may need cold cream or some other lotion

Old age shows first in the changed appearance of the skin If you would have eternal youth guard the beauty which lies in the well cared for skin

Good looks are more than a matter of mere appearance There can be no question there is a psychology in it If you look good to yourself that aids in your self esteem and self assurance We do not go far without these qualities

It is not for beauty I would have you strive It is for your happiness and peace of mind that I advise care of the skin

To be told every day that you do not look well will undermine your resistance It will make you doubtful of yourself For this reason make the very best you can of your skin and good looks

Editorial Opinion.

THE LANGUAGE OF DIPLOMACY

The Franco American debt crisis has evaporated as suddenly as it crystallized a few days ago The debate on the bill for ratification of the Mellon Peronger funding agreement will begin in the Chamber of Deputies on July 9 The present cabinet is no longer in peril Even as relentless a foe as M Caillaux pleads for the support of the ratification plan

Adoption by the chamber is expected after a weeks debate and on July 20 the senate will take up the bill Before August 1 the date when France special debt of $407 000 000 for purchase American war stocks would otherwise be payable parliament it is now fairly well assured will have given its assent Full meeting of an agreement on the return all of the republic debtors to the United States This action is the greatest victory Light Cabinet has ever had in developments at Paris

Le Temps discloses what lies behind all the sudden change in the wind in the Seine In Washington government s reply to our request for postponement of the August 1 payment is negative save the semi official organ of the Quai d Orsay but the form in which it was made by the representative of the American republic proves that the United States government understood the spirit in which the Paris government undertook the mission entrusted to it by parliament

The reference in Secretary Stimson in his conversation with Ambassador Claudel at the state department last Friday The secretary of state recalled with visible emotion the oft all French account of their visit reveals that he was an old friend of France with French blood in his veins, and that after working for three years for the entry of his country into the war he had joined the army at fifty years of age and had been in the whole campaign

He added that the question proposed by the French cabinet had been debated on receipt of press accounts of Thursday s session in the French chamber by the American cabinet He stated that the constitution of the United States did not give the president power to adjourn payment of such a debt and furthermore that no resolution of June 19 permitted no hope of a vote conformable to the desires of France

Mr Stimson declared that he noted with regret how French opinion was disturbed and that American opinion was not less so

American opinion believed that the United States has acted in a perfectly friendly way toward France as by the accord of 1926 the United States in reality consented to the alinement of debts contracted by France during the war and limited the charge on France to the debts she had contracted after the war

Colonel Stimson has given more than one indication during his three months at the state department that he is an adept at this profession The suave and sagacious method to which he resorted to close the Franco American debt incident is proof that he is a past master in a vital department of international relations—the language of diplomacy

It would be difficult to think of a better illustration of the soft answer which turneth away wrath than Secretary Stimson s confession of his affection for France He not only disclosed his own soul but voiced what the French people must know to be the deep sentiments of the American people as a whole—Washington Star

BEAUTIFIERS AND LIGHT

The American street lighting system is stupendous complexly ramifying and impressively costly, but it is one only of the contributions of the electric art

The annual cost for the electricity that lights the street lamps of the nation was in 1927 something more than $68 000 000 which was practically the same amount that was expended last year it is stated by competent statisticians for dentifrices perfumes and face powders for the people of this country These latter figures are from a statement dated November 20 1928 from the bureau of the census of the department of commerce For dentifrices and perfumes the nation s bill last year was more than the total bill for the electrical energy required for the motive power of all the street and interurban railways Shampoos and depilatories cost about as much as the electrical power for all the electrified steam railroads

So with light abundant and brilliant and necessary we demand and have the things which assist us to cleanliness and beauty We want to keep our teeth clean and do so in the interest of cleanliness and health We want to make ourselves attractive and we draw from the fountains of fragrance from the recesses of delicate powders We make electricity do much in the way of this assistance We would not be a contented people without these luxuries which are neither of luminate nor humidating They are things to which we have grown used They help us to happiness and comfort We are a great people the greatest among peoples We can afford to spend more for these things in a measure impossible to other people While we ride on the curtails of the lightnings and make them to serve in infinite ways in our industry and business we at the same time do not hold the things which contribute to the nation s pulchritude—Cincinnati Enquirer

Naples—Vesuvius—Pompeii.

BY TEMPLE MANNING

The sea trip from Genoa to Naples is delightful I would be well worth while were there nothing but the beautiful blue Mediterranean and the clear cloudless sky But there is more—there are islands such historic islands as Corsica and Elba If one cares to one may take a boat which will stop at either or both of these places The larger liners however go direct from Genoa to Naples

Corsica be larger of the two islands I have mentioned was the birthplace of Napoleon

Elba is the island to which Napoleon was exiled and from which he escaped to make a triumphant march through France to Paris But his triumph was short lived Came Waterloo and defeat at the hands of the English

The Bay of Naples is as beautiful a spot as can be found in all Italy It is a setting from which one can well imagine there might arise the romance which characterizes the Neapolitan and which has made immortal his folk songs

Naples proper extends along the bay for about three miles and inland for about two miles But greater Naples covers a territory vastly more extensive Around the city are set a number of smaller towns and villages Some of these are in fact as old or older than Naples The date back to the days of the Greeks and even the roving Phoenicians whose hands which used to sail the Mediterranean And in many of them are to be found ruins to authenticate their claims to an ancy

Naples is another city of churches Among the 300 odd are many which are outstanding examples of the beauty of early Italian architecture The city itself is interesting The Via Roma with its shops the promenades and the restaurants perched high above the bay all these gloriously different There is another side to the picture however and that is the squalor of the old or lower city Here one finds narrow streets with row after row of tenements During the warmer weather the hundreds of people who crowd these dark houses move their belonging into the street and there the practically live

But of all the sights in Naples the greatest is Vesuvius the only active volcano on the continent of Europe Vesuvius is still an active volcano and steam is constantly emerging from its crater However there hasn t been a major eruption since 1906 unless that of this year would be called such The greatest eruption in history was that which took place in 79 A D right after the reign of Nero as Roman emperor It was this eruption which buried Pompeii Mt Vesuvius really has two peaks The one holding the volcanic crater has an altitude of about 4 000 feet —Copyright 1929 Newspaper Feature Service Inc

BY O O McINTYRE

New York July 6—One of the stories unconfirmed but labeled absolutely true which has been consuming the drawing rooms for many weeks refuses to die Several newspapers and a tabloid or so have been trying to smoke it out but a society lady who is the central figure denies it vehemently

I has proved extremely embarrassing as you shall see The ado has been frequently in the limelight as a result of her six efforts to publicize herself Not particularly beautiful or talented she married a gentleman whose family name is illustrious This enhances her value as copy

As the story goes a polished gentleman called to secure her consent to take a blindfold test in a cigaret advertising hoop la The lady with becoming reluctance finally agreed to join the other celebrities who had submitted to the foolishness

An appointment was made to make the test in her own drawing room the subtle suggestion made that this would furnish a famous aristocratic background than the scene of a studio The lady donned an imperial gown and a few rare jewels

She arranged to sit in a throne like chair with a famous painting hanging back of her No detail that would prove photographical impressive was overlooked The committee in braided uniforms coats and the delegation of photographers arrived with great eclat

The lady was securely blindfolded and while a silken voiced gentleman gave her one cigaret after another to light puff and name there was dirty work at the cross roads Two of the committee and a photographer tiptoed out of the room and up the grand stairway

They plundered her bedroom of all jewels she was not wearing took a large sum of money much silverware and several paintings Then with the easily acquired swag they were joined by the others for a fast sneak to a waiting auto The lady was still trying to decide which cigaret was which

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON

One of the great educators of the country said not long ago referring to a report on college studies Those few pages represent months of hard thinking

Few of us know much about hard thinking There is but a small amount of it in the world Most of us ruled by our emotions and our desires study a matter just long enough to get a vague idea of whether it looks good or bad and come quickly or slowly to a superficial conclusion Most people who brag about quick decisions usually make the wrong ones—and are sorry afterwards unless they are too stupid even to know they have made a mistake

* * *

Much of our failure can be traced to our steady adherence to the policy of doing what we like instead of what we really ought to do Too bad that man isn t so built as to come always to right decisions automatically without the adventure of taking a chance or without hard thinking But we aren t that way Every day we have to take our intellectual and spiritual life in our hands and make our decisions as well as we know how

MINISTERS PREFER SHOWS TO RINK

Mt. Gilead Pastors and Theater Men Reach Agreement on Sunday Movies

MT. GILEAD, July 6—A final decision was reached during the meeting of the ministers of Mt. Gilead and members of the board of the Kaypee theater held in the office of W. F. Bruce yesterday afternoon.

The minister chose to have Sunday picture shows here on Sunday afternoon and evening in preference to a dance hall and skating rink which would have been operated during the week.

Those attending the meeting were Rev. Daniel Hamill, of the Presbyterian church; Rev. D. E. Miller, of the Baptist church, Rev. J. C. Smith, of the Methodist church; C. E. Wagner and W. F. Bruce of the Kaypee board.

The proposal of having either Sunday shows or a dance hall and skating rink was made by the board nearly a month ago and since that time many protests have been made to the Sunday shows by different organizations of the county but during the meeting the ministers decided in favor of the shows.

The opening of Sunday shows has become necessary in this community to hold the trade that had been built at the local theater in the last few years and which has fast been decreasing since the opening of Sunday shows in nearly all the neighboring cities.

The theater will open for the first Sunday show Sunday, July 11 and it is thought that "The King of Kings" will be the first picture to be shown in the local theater. Griffith Granger, manager of the theater, is in Cleveland today for the purpose of buying this picture if at all possible or some other suitable picture to show here on the opening date

Volunteer Info

DID you ever watch a group of people or rather stoop to the dirty trick of gaining their conversation your undivided attention, while visiting some point of interest There is always one of the party who is just bubbling over with information which he or she (usually it's a he) is fairly bursting to impart free of charge The informer usually seems to have that in the inferior attitude and when I have an audience outside his own party he can make a point go on and on hollow chested with his information I stood near a party while viewing the Blue Hole at Castalia recently and was greatly enlightened as were members of his immediate party to learn that the curiosity was called the Blue hole and he proudly proclaimed to the several and sundry that it was called so because the water in it was blue Maybe I got what I deserved for listening in

New Money

THE country should rise up and give whoever is responsible for the spic and span new bills a vote of thanks Can you think of anything more thoughtful than having them just as one is ready to start on their vacations Of course coming right at this time one will not have time to carry out the suggestion of the treasury that we study and become familiar with the portraits on the new bill But that isn't the biggest worry it's getting enough together to furnish a variety And saddest of all who can ever hope to get a chance to become familiar with the features of Salmon P Chase whose portrait adorns the $10,000 bill! In time we may get to recognize the father of our country whose noble visage may be seen on the one dollar bills and our hearts may leap with joy occasionally when we unwrinkle the pertrait of the great emancipator but who oh who is going to be reminded that Benjamin Franklin discovered lightning when they gave us his smiling face on a $100 note to fill their purse

That white scarf June mocked quickly in between the two.

Tabor!" she protested in pure bravado— are you blaming me for engaging detectives to find out what had become of you

No, I quite understand" Tabor's regard seemed to comprehend his wife but in remote bewilderment, as he might in all sincerity have been asking what this woman was to him that he must treat with her on the intimacies of a life long dead and buried

You had to make that gesture I know for appearances sake It is not the attention of the Remington people that bring me here tonight but his He lined Mona Desmond in New York yesterday and spent the evening with her—

That's a lie!" Fairless blustered

'Tell Mona that Tabor retorted with a faint shrug tell Theodore who took your order for dinner at the Madison tell young Mr Rudell of McBride's who sold you two seats for Candida,' tell the staff of the Lido-Venice where you and Mona danced till closing time And forgive me if I say I don't quite see the object of this unmannerly denial * * *

Or didn't you know Mona would call Jennifer up the first thing this morning to tell how you slyly had been pumping for information about her all evening long?

But Lance!" June expostulated— you just told me——"

I didn't want to say anything false any false hopes till I was positive Fairless sulkily evaded I had a hunch of course the minute Miss Desmond began to chatter about this Challis girl Still the husband she been introducing to Broadway as Tabor Drew' wasn't necessarily yours

It matters Tabor commented To my mind, it doesn't a great deal what your motive was. What does matter is that you have chosen again to make yourself obnoxious in my private life as well as in the life of the young woman you jilted when you took up with June

That is what forced my hand more than the activities of the Remington agency I don't propose to be divorced' Tabor concluded, addressing June directly with unemphasized but none the less convincing brutality—except on grounds of my own dictation'

June gave a small gasp swayed and put a hand to the table to steady herself The last touch of unreality had been added to this strange cattle nightmare in which she trapped with the man who had stolen Leby the man whom they had dishonored found herself calmly At least with the surface of civilized calm which Tabor's restraint demanded discussing the unspeakable

Her baffled stare guessed from Lance's lowering countenance the color of pressed brick still and seemingly as hard to Tabor's that masked with its worn old cast of authority God knew what stimulus She heard mercilessly shake her tongue

You mean — you can't mean Tabor!—you're willing to have me divorce you

Not willing but determined—you must

On his own terms mind you Fairless mocked The good man is proposing a divorce of collusion

'I am proposing Tabor patiently corrected merely the one arrangement I can consent to which will spare June shame and public humiliation

'Noble of you I'm sure But suppose she isn't of a mind to give you your liberty on your own terms — what then?"

Then I shall reluctantly hold myself constrained to file a petition on my own behalf

And just now you were proposing in your high minded way to spare June—'

She can avoid being made the defendant if she chooses But I shall not retreat from my first stipulation I will not consent to be divorced on false grounds—such as you have been scheming to establish by these later probes into my affairs

'A cruelly wrong thing has been done and I who was innocent of causing it have been made to pay for it 10 times over and will have paid far more before we are done and finished But nothing will induce me to stand by and see the other sufferer pay more"

The other' June blankly echoed— 'the other sufferer'

Lance understands me Tabor informed her in faint fatigue though I don't doubt he's never told you * * *I mean Miss Challis the young woman who was living under his protection on his promise to marry her until he— tired of her and chose to become interested in another man's wife'

And who hooked up with you Fairless sneered as soon as she was quits with me

Does that wound your vanity What is it to you what Jennifer does today?'

I owe nobody an account of my life today you least of all Your attitude makes it competent for me however to inform you that your innuendoes are without foundation in fact'

Tell that to the court Fairless mismatched with poor success when June names Jenny Challis as corespondent

Have you taken leave of your wits Tabor coldly challenged— or what makes you dream I would tolerate any such proceeding

Try and stop it, then

'I shan't be called on to exert myself For her sake and mine poor as she was my wife and legally still is— I am ready today to let June divorce me quietly and as speedily as may be in another state on conditions which I will presently name

But be warned any attempt to bring in the name of Jennifer Challis will be the signal for me to sue here in Philadelphia naming you, and spreading this shameful affair in detail before the public

Tabor'' June gasped—'you never ——'

Would I not?' For once the ice of contempt was touched briefly by a black gleam 'You will be ill advised to take action on that assumption

'But you—your family ——''

'You were counting on that I know But you were reckoning on the man I was * * * If I have learned there is more in life than pride of family, thank yourself for teaching me that lesson."

'Let him sue!'' Fairless hotly counseled losing his head entirely for the moment Hell only lose We've got the goods on him evidence no court in the land would overlook And even if the least grounds existed for what he pretends to believe about us, he can't prove a thing'

"Aren't you being a bit short sighted?' Tabor politely inquired— "overlooking the circumstance that, when I had occasion to seek this meeting I knew precisely where to find you even at what hour"

In surly dismay Fairless growled "Finding us here proves nothing As a matter of fact we didn't come here together——"

I am aware of that'

"But separately to meet the Todwarrens for dinner

'Oh? you are expecting Tod and May''

They've been delayed by something but will turn up any minute now'

I have a feeling they won't," Tabor commented In fact, I'll wager you they don't Shall we say $10 000 against—long odds, I know, but presumably you have the courage of your convictions—$$5 000''

"What'' Fairless started back sharply, his eyes shot with uneasiness. You're mad''

But Tabor seemed for the time content to let his offer rest

'Even if you could get the Lodge warrens to swear to that tale,' he barked back 'you would find it difficult to persuade any court against the evidence my agents have already collected photographs of half a dozen pages in the register down stairs signed in your undisguised hand Mr and Mrs Lance Craddock Philadelphia a photograph of a similar entry in the register of the Hotel Winston New York affidavits of employes——

Meditations OF A Married Woman

BY HELEN ROWLAND

Lovers Then—and Now

TO be a perfect lover a man should have the eloquence of a Romeo the imagination of a Jules Verne and the conscience of a Munchausen

* * *

A cynic is a paying teller who always looks first at the WRONG end of a woman's check for the signature or endorsement

* * *

Next to genuine pre war whisky the hardest thing to find these days is a genuine pre war aged in the wood old maid

THE SILKILUSH LOVERS

Oh love was sweet and very fair
When girls wore roses in their hair
When lovers talk a lot of gush—
And maid had not forgot to blush

When ardent wooing was the fashion
And no one ever spoke of passhun
When Don Juans sought to be disarming
And tried to imitate Prince Charming

When scented notes were written neatly
And tucked in nosegays, most discreetly
And flirts broke hearts with feathered fans—
And love was made on plush divans

When kissing went by special favors,
And came not in assorted flavors
When women won by charm or wit—
And men had never heard of "IT"

When sweet discretion marked a lover
And everything was under cover,
When collars reached up to the chin—
And kissing was a pleasant sin"

Yes, love was very sweet and fair,
When girls wore roses in their hair
And manners were like melted honey—
And all roads led to matrimony'

But, gone, alas, the silk plush lover!
His sun has set—his day is over
Yet, in that halcyon Long Ago
Lift must have been goshawful slow!

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDD M LEWIS

SATURDAY One more day to go to the log washout I must be getting older or bigger or something because I hate it worse and worse No one ever heard me sing wash me and I will be whiter than snow, but my aunt seems to think I sing it every Sunday morning I was wishing I had spears like a porcupine but I bet if I did my aunt would pull them all out and then singe me like my mother does a chicken and then when she had got me smooth she would go ahead and treat me rough again

When we had played a little ball on the vacant lot we took the cows out and put them in the pasture and took a little swim in the creek and then we went through the woods and took another little swim in Mud Turtle pond Then we went over and down the track and was going to play some more ball but it was kinda warm and we thought we would go out and take a swim in the river back of the poorhouse but when we got there there were a lot of men and women and children there and four automobiles They had spread a tablecloth on the sand right where we leave our clothes when we go swimming and there was us and a lady called Hello little boys Would you like some thing good to eat ' I didn't want her to think we were beggars so I said No mam and then I saw a lemon pie and said 'Some And they all laughed and we laughed, and they gave us cake and pie and ginger ale, and they said the place was perfectly beautiful and we were perfectly adorable little boys and it was a perfectly wonderful day Then a man leaned over and whispered to one of the ladies, and she asked me if I was the boy that got buried that the papers were full of. I said I was Then they made me tell them about it, and the lady said, 'Isn't that perfectly thrilling ' Then I told them about the man that thought I was a young lady and they all laughed and hollered when I put my finger in my mouth and rolled up my eyes and wiggled and the lady said it was perfectly excruciating Then we had to have our swim so we went in with our clothes, and I jumped out of the top of the sycamore, and we all went acrosst and slid down the slippery sticks And a lady called a man and said 'Doctor, take a look at this little boy's leg," and he looked at Hopper's leg and said, "I don't know my dear Maybe yes, maybe no Well have to have an xstay — and then — don't expect miracles—modern surgery might do something" The lady grabbed his arm and hung onto it so hard it must have pinched and said, "Oh, please! Please' And charge it to me'" And there were tears in her eyes. He only patted her on the hand, and wrote down Hopper's name and where he lived I was glad we went out back of the poorhouse Hopper is too,

THE HEART STORY OF A WOMAN'S AFFECTIONS

By ADELE GARRISON

Phil Veritzen's Insistent Request

PHILIP VERITZEN'S suave but insistent request that he see me alone as soon as possible was not unexpected Ever since I saw his eyes flash to Princess Olina's flushed face as she brought out her half conscious protesting No' at the news of Prince George's betrothal I had known that sooner or later he would come to me for an explanation of the incident As I reluctantly turned toward him I saw that he was with difficulty concealing wrath and dismay and resigned myself to become the recipient of those time honored queries of a newspaper lead Who? What? When? Where? How?'

But before I answered him my eyes involuntarily went in search of Dicky in the fervent hope that he was not near enough to hear my employer's request. In the preparations for the announcement dinner and the excitement of coping with the spies who purposely had been shuttled to the tiger trap Dicky's ardor seemed to have departed and there had been a distinct lessening in the strain of our relations I knew his aversion to Philip Veritzen and I dreaded any incident which would rouse his jealous anger against my employer

I need not have worried I told myself caustically as I saw my husband seated in a big chair with Edith Fairfax perched upon the arm of it She had taken one of the magazines from the reading table and using it for a desk was rapidly drawing, or writing something in which Dicky apparently was deeply absorbed I just had time to see her look up at Dicky with a triumphant glance and to see his nod of approval before Mr Veritzen spoke again

'I am sorry he began with intense displeasure in his voice but I interrupted him quickly all my scruples vanishing at the sight of the absorbed conversation in which Dicky and Edith were engaging

Madge's Plan

Forgive me for delaying my answer I said smiling at Mr Veritzen I was just wondering where I could talk to you without interruption as you ask It is not a particularly easy thing to arrange in this limited space with so many people as our house guests But after a little while we are going to play bridge There are ten of us and as host and hostess my husband and I had planned to drop out But if——

'I loathe bridge Mr Veritzen said promptly and I knew truthfully for I had heard him voice his dislike for the game before

'And I also dislike it though mildly I returned 'But my husband is a devotee so he will be only too glad of the chance to play

Then everybody will be pleased Mr Veritzen said with a flashing smile 'I leave the rest to you'

His deferential little bow conveyed the belief that I was equal to any demand made upon me, and when he had gone back to the smiling but patently uncomfortable international romantic quartet to the members of which he had attached himself since dinner I slipped out into the living room where Purnell had arranged the flowers signalling Lillian to follow me

What's calling Phil?' she asked, when a little later she had come into the room and closed the door Of course I knew she hastily amended

He caught that stifled 'No' of Olina's on the fly—pity he wouldn't get a bit deaf he's old enough—and he wants to know what it's all about But where do you come in? I saw him hiding out a mixture of frowns and smiles in your direction and I know he must be on the warpath for something or other

'He is I told her and recited my employer's request and my plan for granting it

Lillian Steps In

That's easy she said The first time I'm dummy I'll grab you and I'll fly either arm and under some pretense or other lead you back to this apartment—lucky we've planned to play bridge in ours—and then I'll beat it back again leaving you to deal with the old bird How's that for a plan

'It's splendid, I told her but my voice betrayed the worry that was

Port Columbus 3-Day Dedication Program Opens Today

FORGES LAST LINK RAIL-PLANE ROUTE

Henry and Edsel Ford Due To Arrive In Ohio Capital City Monday

EXHIBITIONS SUNDAY

Ships from All Sections of Country Swoop Down on City Field

COLUMBUS, July 6—While nearly all "air-minded" Ohioans focused their attention on Cleveland today, where the "City of Cleveland" shattered the world's endurance refueling flight record, citizens of Columbus, unostentatiously, yet arduously, entered into a three-day air fete, which will mark the opening of Port Columbus and the forging of the last link in the transcontinental air-mail route.

Elaborate plans have been made for the formal dedication of the "port of the skies" Monday morning.

From his office in Washington, Secretary of Commerce Lamont will press an electric button which will signal the release of the first T. A. T. (Transcontinental Air Transport Co.) passenger plane to leave Port Columbus under the new schedule, which brings Los Angeles within 51 hours of New York.

Fords Due Monday

Henry Ford, and his son, Edsel, automobile czars, who have now interestedly entered the airplane industry, are expected to arrive here Monday morning, to take part in the dedication.

Gov. Myers Y. Cooper will deliver an address following a speech by Dr. W. O. Thompson, president-emeritus of the Ohio State University, who will make the dedication talk.

Though the formal dedication will not take place until Monday, planes from all sections of the nation swooped down upon the field throughout today and glided to graceful stops, until the field itself looked like the homing grounds of a gigantic fleet of homing pigeons.

Port Columbus is the newest airport here. It was built by the city of Columbus and has been praised by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and other notables of the air. It is located about nine miles from the heart of the city.

Train Depot Built

A train depot, connecting the Pennsylvania railroad with its eastern terminal, has been built at the field.

Three runways are stretched triangularly across the field, which will allow the take-off of planes, regardless of the direction of the wind.

The first plane to make the day jump from Columbus and shorten the time from New York to Los Angeles will be named the "City of Columbus."

As the first ship takes off, it will unveil a bronze tablet set in a stone base, commemorating inauguration of the coast-to-coast train-plane service.

Program Today, Sunday

Among prominent personages present will be Maj. Clarence Young, assistant director of aeronautics in the department of commerce; David S. Ingalls, former state senator and now assistant secretary of the navy in charge of aeronautics; W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad; Gen. Dennis E. Nolan, of the fifth corps area, and Service Director W. H. Duffy, Columbus.

Despite cloudy weather this morning, crowds began to trek to the field. The air fete will begin shortly after noon. Stunt and exhibition flying are to be staged. A similar program has been arranged for tomorrow.

WHAT CHRYSLER HAS DONE

It is hard to recall the day when there were no Chrysler cars, difficult to remember a time when the flashing Chrysler wings had not yet appeared on the world's highways And yet, that was not so long ago—only five years, in fact.

Where it has taken the average automobile ten to twenty-five years of gradual, plodding growth to achieve public acclaim, Chrysler has risen swiftly to a foremost and topmost place in the industry in less than five short years!

What Chrysler has done is without parallel Overnight, a name became a symbol of speed, quality, beauty and safety. At Christmas, 1923, the Chrysler emblem meant nothing in the public mind. By Easter, 1924, it had come to stand for leadership—a claim undenied to this day.

Fads come and go Some motor cars have their brief hour of popularity and then are forgotten. Chrysler's unprecedented leap into a position in the van of the industry was neither forced nor accidental. That place was won by inherent worth and undeniable value. Today, Chrysler is firmly entrenched at the top, offering the finest performance in its history A ride is a revelation.

d Cram's Bicycle Marathon Record Broken By Green Camp Youth

ARD a junior ... Green Camp ... de ... oned Bue ... te national bi ... sp ... s ... a new known today ... s new record ... on Jul 3 and 4 ... 27 hours ... inutes over Marion county roads and streets under the auspices of the Green Camp athletic association

Cram's record made on the streets of Marion several weeks ago was 25 hours and 32 minutes. Cram who rode under the auspices of the Marion Y Indus club, is about 20 years of age while Chard is near 16

Record Verified

Chard's record is verified by members of the Green Camp athletic association who paced him over the entire course of his ride. These men included Roy N Love f, athletic coach at Green Camp high school Merton Porter and Howard Ritzler both active members of the association M Porter, postmaster at Green Camp was the official timer for the ride

In the course of his record breaking ride Chard rode a distance of 187.2 miles, starting at noon Wednesday from the postoffice at Green Camp and finishing at the same place at 3 12 o'clock afternoon of July Fourth

Chard covered practically every part of Marion county during his ride coming into Marion several times and then south to Prospect past the Marion Country club Chard also rode to Agosta during the night ride

Rode Own "Bike"

He rode his own bicycle which he stripped of all unnecessary equipment to make it as light as possible during the ride He made no special preparations for the ride and says he just did it to see if it could be done

He was pretty well all in' when the ride was finished and collapsed as soon as he was taken off the bicycle at the completion of the venture Just before he stopped he said, 'Boy I'll sure be glad to get off this bicycle

Cram this evening stated that he will plan immediately for another ride to try to bring back his title but is not certain as to the exact date

Chard is the son of Mr and Mrs. Jim Chard of Green Camp. He played a guard on the championship Green Camp high school basketball team last year and is also a good track man Coach Jewett is looking for him to fill a regular berth on the cage squad next year

SPORT STUFF

BY BOB ELLIOTT

WE missed our bouquet of roses for this week's Industrial games on Wednesday but are here in full array for the Commercial games of yesterday For the first time our award goes to a hurler on a losing team We refer to Bob Peadon star southpaw of the K of P nine who gave two hits to the Shovel outfit and lost 2 to 0 when his team made four errors behind him Peadon is one of the best moundsmen in the city and the performance he gave against the Diggers was just a typical Peadon game

Also Johnny Rief midget short stop of the Kappas gave a nice exhibition of base running by scoring three times from first base on singles

• • •

Bud Cram local boy who set a new national bicycle marathon riding record a few weeks ago to see it broken in turn by Rollie Chard a Green Camp high school boy over the Fourth of July is already making plans for another attempt to regain the record

Why not have a district or even state meet with anybody welcome to enter and make a real affair out of it

Cram is willing to race Chard and from what we can gather Chard is more than ready to race Cram so a double joust may not be so far in the offing

• • •

THIS Commercial league race is sure the cats meow when it comes to evenly matched teams Three teams the Kappas Eagles and Shovels are battling for dear life for the championship and with the season well into the second round are still tied with six games won and one lost

• • •

Something good is going to happen next Friday night when the Kappas and Eagles tangle at Fairfield Neither team can be given an edge although the Kappas will probably enter the favorites as a result of their first round victory over the Bird men Don't bet too much money however

• • •

DON'T forget the Old Timers' game tomorrow afternoon at Lincoln Park There probably won't be a whole lot of scientific baseball but the veterans have given the Eagles fair warning that they are out for blood and are going to win the game if they possibly can at all

• • •

This preliminary softball game will give fans a chance to judge between Gruber and Gamble as pitchers These two moundsmen are rated as the class of the town and when they clash against each other hits will be at a premium

• • •

WE wonder what's happening to the Cards Billy Southworth's gang just lost their tenth in a row and are only three games ahead of the fast stepping Robins from Flatbush The failure of old Alex to come around to form has handicapped Bills to no little extent as well as the failure of his club to come up to its right hitting place

Oak Street pulled a seventh inning that just fell short in their fray with Silver Street. Oak entered the last frame trailing by five runs but came back strong to score four in the seventh The tying run was on base when the final out was made.

IT'S UP TO RUTH OR ME TO MAKE GOOD
TH NEW YORK GIANTS 20 YEAR OLD OUTFIELDER— McGRAW SAYS HE WILL HAVE "EVERYTHING"
IF TH BABE FAILS TO COME THROUGH THIS YEAR, OTT WILL KEEP TH HOME RUN TITLE IN NEW YORK—

EVERY now and then the Gates unbend to drop a sack of gold in the lap of some major league ball club When Mel Ott was recommended to John McGraw of the New York Giants the Gates were in a most generous mood

After looking over the youngster who cost the club a few bowls of soup and a railroad ticket McGraw noted as frugal with compliments when they concern a baseball prospect admitted that the kid seemed to have almost everything

Still not old enough to vote Ott has made good in no uncertain terms If he keeps up the pace he has started Mel bids fair to be one of the world's greatest outfielders

While McGraw has a system of shifting his outfield against left and right handed pitchers he seems to feel that Ott is good enough to stay in there every day At least Mel was being used almost daily in the early season

Ott is a natural ball player He never overlooks a signal from the boss he covers large acreage in the field and takes a good healthy wallop at the sphere when he's at the plate And those wallops are the things which are helping most to keep Mr Ott in the Giant lineup every afternoon

This Summer the youngster has been making the apple for full circuit clouts and extra base socks mean much in a race such as is sure to be staged in the older circuit this year Ott is too modest to say much about himself but the other Giants figure that Mel has a great chance to cop the home run honors in the National league for 1929 In fact they know his ability so well that they are optimistic enough to believe that the youth will be the new home run king of the pastime Personally we think that Babe Ruth (despite his early season illness) will emerge from the season's war wearing the tiara although it may be slightly dented

However Ott will be right up near the top That's something for a youngster who isn't old enough to vote yet!

NINE OF OLD TIMERS TO BATTLE EAGLES IN CONTEST SUNDAY

Soft Ball Between Two All-Star Teams Booked for Preliminary

BASEBALL fans here will get a chance to look at some former Marion stars when the Marion Eagles clash with an Old Timers nine at Lincoln Park Sunday afternoon The hard ball fray is to be preceded by a soft ball game between two local all-star teams The softball game is scheduled to start at 1 0 o'clock with the main game following it an hour and a half later

Between 25 and 30 former stars will be out in the lineup of the Old Timers who will be led by Billy Fetter Colegrove Marshall Jack man and Ballenger will do mound duty for the former stars while Anderson and Lawrence will be behind the plate

Word was received late yesterday from Gene Mayfield who is now located in Akron that he may be able to get here for the game If he gets here Gene will probably patrol the first sack during the greater share of the game Art Seffner will also be present and may cover the initial bag for a couple of innings Louie Uhl will also be a guardian of first base in case either of the above two fail to show up

The Eagles will lineup as per usual with Sep Good on the mound and Bill Loomire doing the catching The infield will see Joe Genzo Byron Shupp and Rizor and the out field will have Hlash Ballouf Mc Cann and Younkins

The soft ball fray will attract a good deal of attention with all indications pointing to a record crowd Grubb will hurl for a team rapidly Walt Ballouf while Roy Rice has secured Bob Gamble and Bob Peadon to perform on the hill for him

SCHMELING HOPING THAT JACK DEMPSEY WILL BE READY SOON

Maxie Says He's Only Too Willing To Take Up Jack's Challenge

BY DAVIS J WALSH
I N S Sports Editor

ATLANTIC CITY N J July 6— I hope Mr Dempsey does not change his mind I hear that he sometimes does

Max Schmeling the German heavyweight fellow was very busy doing nothing down here today and stopped right in the middle of everything to make this significant remark in connection with Jack Dempsey's published challenge to heavyweights in general and to himself in particular In his precise but halting English Schmeling thus declared himself to the effect that not only was he accepting Dempsey's challenge but, in turn was challenging Dempsey to accept his acceptance as it were or words or both He seemed to fear that Mr Dempsey as he called him was talking just for the sake of giving his adenoids a good fast work out

In brief the German says he hopes that Dempsey's threat to return to the ring turns out to be a definite promise He apparently had been informed that John holding him in rather light esteem had wanted Schmeling for his very own for he has agreed to oblige today by waiving all rights in the matter of naming time place and the number of rounds I may be mistaken but it seemed to me that the German wished to give the impression that he didn't care for Mr Dempsey in a big unselfish way

I informed Mr Dempsey once that I was ready to meet him any where and at any time, Schmeling explained 'That was my challenge to him and it was an official one for I made it in writing and signed my name to it If it is he now who is challenging me that is good, is it not so? For then we should get together I will make no difficulty about the time or the place or the conditions just as I am prepared to meet Sharkey any place where our fight can be conducted If the boxing commission in New York will not allow me to fight Dempsey and Sharkey until I fulfill a contract made for me by an unauthorized man then I shall fight them any where that is acceptable to them

But Mr Dempsey should waste no further time with challenges I am happy to accept all of them'

The unauthorized man referred to is Arthur Bulow his discarded manager who signed Schmeling to the Dempsey banner when Dempsey was acting as matchmaker for that outfit It is this circumstance that is serving to bar the German from New York rings and it seems he resents Dempsey's part in the proceedings

Cabled Him

'He cabled me when I was home in Germany saying that I have been signed to fight for him" Schmeling added In my reply I told him that he should be the last man to ask any fighter to obey the contract of a manager with whom he did not wish to be associated

This evidently struck home as I wished it to do In the same message I told him I was ready to fight him any where and at any time and for anybody

Mr Dempsey may change his mind but I have not changed mine and will not do so He is the one man in the world I prefer as a opponent'

CARDINALS SLIPPING OUT OF LOOP RACE

Redbirds Drop Tenth Game to Phillies When Klein Hits for Circuit

NEW YORK N Y July 6—Word that St Louis has adopted the famous Blues as the city anthem is expected momentarily

For the old town along the Mississippi is doing no little wailing these days now that the collapse of the Cardinals had allied to its baseball miseries

Last year's National league champions were smacked by the Phillies yesterday and in being smacked ran their string of defeats to 10 This leaves them just three games north of the cellar Robins in fourth place It is reported that Cardinals has moved over on the basement sofa to make room for the Cards if they fail to find some means of checking their headlong descent

Indians Win

In the only other major league game of the day the Indians staged a three run rally in the well known seventh to nose out the White Sox 11 to 10

A big feature engagement in the National finds New York playing host to their most bitter enemy Brooklyn The two clubs play a single game and then turn to staving off a whirlwind invasion of the west The Giants position that they belong higher than third place and unable to secure it by battling the eastern weaker sisters are downright impatient for the strong west ern outfits to arrive The Bruins come first then the Cubs Cardinals and Pirates

The Yankees today begin their second tour of the western circuit hoping that their return to native haunts will find them a good deal nearer the first place Athletics They meet the Browns today—the same Browns they pretty well cleaned up on an earlier visit

As at Old

Philadelphia opens in Chicago and will probably get a laugh or two as the scoreboard records the progress of the Quaker thirst quenching outfit in St Louis

President Hoover will press the button at 4 30 o'clock that marks the final taking over of this huge building and a program of entertainment and greeting will surround the president's contribution to the ceremonies.

Bill Hay will furnish the introduction to the program and will be followed by Rabbi Mann, who is to give the invocation. Miss Irene Pavloska, a member of the Chicago Civic Opera company, is to sing the "Star Spangled Banner," assisted by the Daily News orchestra.

SOUTHPAW O'TOOLE MAKES HIS DEBUT

SOUTHPAW SLIM O'TOOLE, formerly of the Bushwacker's league, playing out of Nashville for the Nashville Hill Billies, has graduated to the New York Hunkies, crack team of the Big Leagues, bringing with him a reputation for making grand boneheaded plays and for strike outs in the box. He's a cocky youngster, slinging the ball by both ears, but ready to back up his boasts at any time with a corking performance or a pair of equally capable fists.

Slim makes his bow to the radio audience of NBC listeners at 8.30 o'clock Monday night in the first program of a series which will be broadcast every Monday night. The opening broadcast is situated in the Hunkies' mammoth stadium just after Slim has joined the team.

Also Slim's "not-hard-to-look-at girl friend" is at the game and what she don't do to a perfectly good baseball team is nobody's business.

AFTER such a strenuous game of tennis—let's not speak of the score—Rosalie decided that the only thing which would cool her off properly would be an aeroplane ride, and she'll be glad when this last set is over, so that she can be off for her spin in the clouds. Before she gets away, let us take a peek at the new shorts she is wearing. They are of bright colored corduroy and can also be obtained in velveteen and all wool tweed. They have bloomers inside, and are equipped with metal slide fasteners. The colors are capucine, wine, brown and navy.

Beach Furrows Cause Flight Postponement

OLD ORCHARD, Me., July 6—Whipped into furrows by crosswinds, unfavorable condition of the beach today forced postponement of the projected flight to Rome by Roger Williams and Capt. Lewis Yancey in the monoplane "Pathfinder."

With their giant plane all fueled and ready for the start, an examination of the beach at 4 o'clock this morning revealed that a take-off under present conditions could not possibly be successful, and reluctantly Williams and Yancey admitted that the start would have to go over for 12 hours at least.

UNION MEN KILLED DURING WILD RIOTS

List of Injured When Mob Storms Street Cars Runs Into Hundreds

200 UNDER ARREST

Result of Company Attempting To Run Cars with Strike-Breakers

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 7—Following two days of rioting in which two persons were killed and hundreds were injured, police today were busy breaking up sporadic gatherings of street car strikers and sympathizers in an attempt to thwart further violence.

Two union men, Sylvan Thibodeaux and Joseph Mollnero are dead as a result of the riots, and William T. Fort, a union conductor, was so badly wounded he may not recover. The list of injured ran into the hundreds, including many policemen. Two hundred unionists are under arrest.

Fearful of a recurrence of yesterday's disorder and vandalism, the New Orleans Public Service, Inc., was prohibited by the city commission from making further efforts to resume street car service with strike breakers. The riots followed attempts of the car company to start operation.

The fury of a mob which had gathered Thursday night swelled rapidly yesterday when the first car moved from the barn, and 2,000 men and women charged it. It had to return to the barn. They did the same to the second car, and finally took possession of the third and wrecked it.

The car tracks were reported torn up by strikers in several sections of the city. Reports of disorder from all sections were frequent, and riot squads were sent every few minutes to disperse gathering mobs.

IN the tunelessness of Broadwayese patois "Broadway Babies" (First National) unfolds a gun-spitting plot of racketeering and chorus girl trouble which would raise hair on a squash and make a porcupine bald.

Reserve Board's Report Starts Stocks at Lower Level

227 MILLION BOOST IN BROKERS' LOANS

Increase In Rediscounts and Drop in Reserve Ratio Is Shown

SPECIALTIES ADVANCE

Week-End Business Reviews Report Slight Reaction In Trade

BY W. S. COUSINS
I. N. S. Financial Editor

NEW YORK, July 6—Most of the industrial stock favorites started the day at a lower level as the result of reserve board's report showing an increase of $227,000,000 in brokers loans, an increase in rediscounts and a drop in reserve ratio from 75.3 to 72.9 per cent.

Big traders threw stocks on the market as a "feeler" and prices at the start receded 1 to 2½ points but brisk advances went ahead in the new specialties which led Friday's closing advance.

Wall Street was not inclined to worry over the reserve board's report of a heavy increase in brokers loans. The last two weeks have witnessed a terrific turnover in money and bank credits and investors have been borrowing all the money in sight to pay for new stocks and bonds bought on stockholders rights.

The July interest and dividend bill was close to a billion dollars.

The week-end business reviews reported a slight reaction in trade and industry, but an unusually large mid-summer output of steel, motor cars and other manufactured goods. Acceptance dealers reduced the rate on prime bankers acceptances an eighth to 5¼—5⅛ per cent. for 30 to 200-day bills.

Rain Likely To Break Into Sunday Picnic Programs

Picnickers should take an umbrella and a slicker with them Sunday, if they would avoid discomfort. Weathermen promise thunder storms tonight and Sunday with but little change in temperature.

Yesterday was fairly warm, with a high temperature of 83 reported. A year ago the high was 82. Last night saw but meager changes in the temperature, the mercury remaining above the 67 mark. A year ago 61 was low.

The trouble with the average man is that he isn't honest with himself.

A responsible Chicago Investment House dealing only in high grade substantial securities and which is establishing representatives in various sections of the Middle West is desirous of securing representation in Marion.

The man who will be selected must be over 25 years of age, of good character and reputation, and preferably have some sales, security or banking experience.

To such a man we can offer a connection which will be profitable and in which he can lay the foundation for a successful career in the investment business.

SOCIAL REGISTERITE STARTS CRUISE

Mrs. Leonard Outhwaite, with her feline mascot, sails for Europe with her husband aboard their 90-foot auxiliary yacht "Kinkajou." They expect the trip to take them 25 days. The craft is 70 tons or thirty gross tons less than the flagship used by Christopher Columbus.

Meats and Lemons Go to Top Price Levels in Local Market Changes This Week

Scarcity of Cattle Given as Cause of Meats' Upward Trend. While Popularity of Summer Drink Gives Boost to Lemons

Meats and lemons hit top prices this week on Marion markets. Strawberries have almost disappeared, while several new items such as Ohio celery and California cherries were introduced within the last seven days.

Beef prices soared Tuesday, nearly all beef items hitting higher levels. Scarcity of cattle desirable for meat is named for the raise. There are plenty of grass-fed cattle, but these are not desired for meat.

Ordinary steaks, formerly quoted between 30 and 40 cents, have now hit new high levels of 50 and 55 cents a pound. Chuck roasts also made decided gains, standing now between 40 and 45 cents a pound after former quotations of 28 cents. Even dried beef shared the general rise of prices, by jumping from 65 and 75 cent quotations to 60 and 80-cent levels. Beef hearts, jumping from 15 cents to 18 and 20 cents a pound, and corned beef, which pumped a dime to 40 cents, were not exempt from the upward trend.

Year's High Mark

Lemons, large yellow ones, hit the year's high level of a nickel each last Wednesday. This is the top price for this item, which will probably remain high during the entire summer. Popularity of lemonade during summer months is thought to warrant the gain. A few weeks ago they were quoted at 37 cents a dozen. Successive increase to 39, 45, and 47 cents finally landed them at 60 cents a dozen.

Tomatoes, which continue to come from southern states, will probably undergo some price change as well as variety changes on local markets when Marion county truck farms begin to produce in a few weeks. At the present, the supply is drawn chiefly from Texas and Missouri, these varieties selling two pounds for 25 cents. However, for the more select varieties, one must pay 20 and 25 cents a pound for hothouse varieties. The local crop of tomatoes is always of a desirable grade and is expected to be purchased in preference to imported varieties.

Shortcake Season Over

Strawberries have almost disappeared. There are a few available quarts to be had, but the shortcake season is practically on the shelf until next year.

The first 1929 celery to be had locally arrived this week from Willard, O., where it is grown in quantities. Head lettuce will soon come from this vicinity, grocers say.

Other new items were new string beans at 15 cents, two pounds for 25 cents and sweet cherries, new at 35 cents a quart, these coming from California. New cabbage was selling at six cents a pound.

Variety of Supplies Taken by Prowler

A wrist watch, two rings and a basket of eggs constituted the loot obtained by the prowler who ransacked the house of Carl Brockelsby, Patton pk., yesterday. A report of the theft has been made to the office of Sheriff John J. Francis.

BACK FROM MEETING

Attorney John H. Clark has returned from Atlantic City where he attended a meeting of the executive board of the Methodist Book Concern.

Apparently some men are placed on this earth to prey on the others, and need to be treated like all predatory species.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

Apricots, usually sold in cans here, can be purchased "in the raw" following the arrival of crates of them from California to be sold on local markets.

The "little peaches" are quite appetizing to look at, as they have a healthy yellow and red color. They are quoted at 20 cents a pound here.

Yellow transparent apples, which opened here a few weeks ago at two pounds for 27 cents, and later dropped to two pounds for 25 cents, have lost another cent or two by hitting the 10 cents a pound mark today. They are also healthier looking fruit than the scrawny ones first seen here.

Local produce continues to come in to replace the imported items, and grocers predict an entire line of greenstuffs from Marion soil will soon be available.

Beef prices, which hit high levels last week, will remain high the rest of the summer, in the opinion of local butchers. As long as the beef supply must be grazed on green pasture, the beef prices will stay up. Only the dry fed cattle are desirable for butchering.

REPAINT SIGN

Junior Chamber of Commerce Adds to Guide for Aviators

The large sign on the roof of the Barnhart building for the direction of airplane pilots has been repainted by Junior Chamber of Commerce. The sign bears the word "Marion" in large letters.

Two additions for the convenience of visiting aviators have been made to the sign. One is a large arrow pointing in the direction of the airport west of the city. The other is an arrow pointing north and labeled with a large N to indicate direction.

Mayor Emery M. Murphy was the speaker last night at the regular meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Following his talk the mayor answered questions concerning municipal affairs.

Today's Review of Grain Market

CHICAGO, July 6—Wheat prices continued their bullish advance yesterday with the broadest buying that has been witnessed since January, based on the sensational crop news from the Northwest. New highs were made on the present turn and December sold within a fraction of the high on the crop.

In the late trade, corn suddenly wakened from the lethargic state it has been in since the advance in wheat started. Led by the September, all the options made substantial gains as shorts covered and new buying appeared. Oats followed, the deferred months gaining sharply. Rye gained on wheat.

Closing wheat prices were slightly off from the top on profit taking, but net advances of 3@3¼c were recorded. Corn closed at the top, 2¼@3c up. Oats gained ½@2c for the day, while rye was up 4@4½c. Winnipeg finished ⅝@⅞c off for the day, but 3½@3¾c above Wednesday's close. Liverpool closed ⅝d higher to 1d lower.

Reports from the Northwest yesterday not only indicated that promise for better than an average crop is gone, but also that conditions in many sections have reached the point where rains now would be of little benefit. In South Dakota the situation is characterized as calamitous, with North Dakota's prospects diminishing daily. Similar conditions exist in Canada, reports indicate.

A setback after Thursday's sharp advance at Winnipeg caused a lower opening in the local market, but prices rallied on the Canadian exchange and local values followed. Realizing was heavy on the advance, but the broad buying took all the offerings and bid the market up rapidly.

Scattered showers were received overnight in Canada, but they were said to be of little consequence. Rain was forecast for sections of the domestic Northwest, but the Canadian forecast was for clear weather and higher temperatures.

Export wires indicated that inquiry for American hard Winters continues to improve because Canadian prices have worked out of line. Some business was said to have been done over the holiday, but amounts were not given. Broomhall said the Rosario strike was restricting Argentine clearances. North American clearances dropped to 4,841,000 bu this week, according to Bradstreet's. This is undoubtedly due to the advance in Manitoba.

As bulls had expected, many in the grain trade were out inspecting corn fields over the Fourth and found conditions bullish. The market was firm early, but made little progress until the final hour when short covering and new buying appeared in volume. September corn has been sold as a hedge against purchases of all the other grains.

This was principally due to the narrow spread between corn and wheat prices on the recent downturn in wheat. However, the advance has widened the premium to where advances merely in sympathy with wheat would be in order, bulls believe. The uncertain crop conditions add incentive to purchases.

The cash market, while failing fully to follow the advance in the future, was firm. Local shipping sales totaled 60,000 bu, and country offerings were moderate. Weather is generally favorable.

When You Consider Their Accomplishments---

The small cost of a Classified Ad is almost ridiculous. Very frequently a 63 cent ad sells a $1,000 automobile or an $8,000 home. And the increasingly universal use of this type of advertising means that these Ads do PRODUCE!
